The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: U. S. Needs Strong Leadership For Pan-Americanism; Kefauver's Children Tell Him Being Father Is More Important Than Being President; Inspecting Airplane Baggage For Bombs Would Be Difficult.

WASHINGTON. — With American foreign policy fighting a losing game in Asia, Africa, and to some extent Europe, it might pay Eisenhower planners to give more attention to the Pan American Union and the man who will guide its destinies during the next few years.

Sitting serenely just a few blocks from the State Department, the sometimes neglected Pan American Union can be a great force for the type of peaceful cooperation so badly needed in the world but not overly prevalent today.

The man who takes the place of the late Carlos Davila, much-loved, late director-general of the Pan American Union, can play an all-important part in molding a close-knit alliance against communism and for better understanding in the Americas.

Among the possibilities for this post are dynamic Eduardo Zuleta-Angel, ex-ambassador of Colombia, who, however, is not too anxious to serve; and ex-President

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
We have thought of Thy steadfast love, O God. — Ps. 48:9.

The great heart of the Infinite wants to gather us in His everlasting arms. The hairs of our head are numbered. We cannot say that no one cares for us. This text saved a man at the Ft. Pitt Hotel from suicide.

Galo Plaza of Ecuador, one of the few Latin-American presidents born in the United States.

Galo Plaza not only was born in Greenwich Village, New York City, but studied at the University of Maryland, played football at the University of California, served as ambassador in Washington and is one of the most consistent and faithful followers of the democratic processes in Latin America.

While some other Latin governments have closed down the press, Galo laughed at the gibes against him in the Ecuadorian press, never imposed martial law, and, most important of all, held free and fair elections at the end of his four-year term. He was, incidentally, the only Ecuadorian president ever to finish out a full term. The others were either assassinated or deposed.

Those elections resulted in a victory for his opposition, and though he could probably have started a revolution against the present regime, he has lived quietly in Ecuador under his political opponents.

Galo Plaza was ambassador in Washington during the war, when the Pan American defense pact was negotiated. He was one of the most effective architects of this agreement, also helped formulate the charter of the United Nations at San Francisco.

As director-general of the Pan American Union he would give powerful impetus to closer unity between the Americas at a time when the United States appears to be losing friends in other parts of the world.

NANCY SAYS "NO"
If Senator Kefauver decides to run for President, he'll face revolt at home—not only from his beautiful wife Nancy, but from his four children.

The senator from Tennessee was being interviewed on College Press Conference and afterward he was asked by Ruth Hagy why he hadn't admitted that he was going to run for President when in his private conversation he seemed to be quite definite that he would run.

Mrs. Kefauver, who campaigned for her husband up and down the United States in '52 was in the group, and she answered the question.

"The children are looking at the show," she said, "and if he runs for President they're going to leave home."

When Nancy was asked if she would campaign, she replied that they had just moved into a new house and she was terribly busy getting settled.

"Every once in a while Estes says, 'We must talk about the future.' But," said Mrs. Kefauver, "we just haven't gotten around to it."

It was quite clear, however, that Estes is putting off the conversation because he knows what Nancy will say.

BOMBS IN BAGGAGE
A system whereby airplane baggage can be inspected for explosives is now under discussion at the Civil Aeronautics Administration, but the prospects don't look good.

Last week CAA Chief Fred Lee conferred with J. Edgar Hoover over the use of various magnetic machines which detect metal concealed in clothing of prison visitors. However, an explosive instrument concealed in airplane baggage doesn't have to be made of metal and therefore could not be detected by a magnetic machine. Furthermore, enough explosive to blow up an airplane can be concealed in a fountain pen. This appears to rule out detection devices used in prisons.

Another, though inexpensive, solution might be a gadget called the "inspector" tested by the U. S. Bureau of Prisons, which works on the principle of an X-ray and can search out almost anything. However, the gadgets cost over $3,000 each and there's been fear of radiation in using them on human beings. They can be used on suitcases and packages, however, without danger. The problem of installing them in several thousand baggage counters throughout the USA is one the experts hate to tackle.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

In a private policy huddle, President Eisenhower and Secretary of Labor Mitchell agreed not to ask Congress to amend the Taft-Hartley law next session. They decided, however, to push five administration labor bills.

Most important would be legislation requiring overtime pay for workmen on government projects whose work week exceeds 40 hours in five eight-hour days.

Dr. Arthur Burns, the President's chief economist, is counting on the $1 minimum wage to keep the economy booming next year. The new wage floor, which goes into effect March 1, will add $500,000,000 to the pay checks of 2,000,000 workers.

More important, in Dr. Burns' private opinion, this will set off an economic chain reaction, causing other wage boosts and stimulating the economy. Ironically, the full $1 minimum wage was passed by the Democrats over President Eisenhower's objections.

New York's Democratic Chairman Mike Prendergast is pulling political strings to keep the state's senior Democrat, Sen. Herbert Lehman, from heading the New York delegation at the 1956 convention. Reason: Lehman is for Adlai Stevenson, not Governor

Glendell Butterworth En Route Home on Goodwill Tour Flight

Glendell Butterworth

The Navy Neptunes of Patrol Squadron 4 left the U. S. Naval Air Station, Iwakuni, Japan, on a good tour-homecoming flight that will take them 16,693 miles through four countries.

Glendell C. Butterworth, airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Butterworth of Route 3, Harrisburg, Ill., is serving with Patrol Squadron 4.

The squadron, manned by 34 officers and 86 men, climaxed a five month tour of duty in the Far East where they have been engaged in shipping surveillance and reconnaissance flights. While overseas, the squadron logged over 1,000 hours each month.

Itinerary for the flight includes two and three day stops at Singapore, B. C. C.; Manila, P. I.; Auckland, New Zealand; Pearce, Sidney, Melbourne, Brisbane and Townsville, Australia.

After leaving Townsville, the squadron will return home via Kwajalein Atoll, Honolulu and San Francisco. The group is expected to be in Whidbey Island about December 1.

About 21.5 of Michigan's wage and salary workers are employed by the auto industry.

CENTRAL ILLINOIS PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

LOW COST ESSENTIAL SERVICE TO INDUSTRY, BUSINESS, FARM AND HOME

Half its Horsepower is for Safety!

A pretty steep hill, you'd say?

Well, not so far as this gentleman is concerned. He just gave the accelerator a little encouragement with his toe . . . and swept from bottom to top so effortlessly he was scarcely aware of it.

For he's at the wheel of a beautiful new 1956 Cadillac. And beneath that long, sleek, graceful hood rests the smoothest, most powerful engine in Cadillac history.

The fact is that this great new Cadillac engine is powerful and dynamic far beyond the requirements of normal usage. In the course of ordinary motoring, it is entirely possible that the driver will never put the accelerator down to the floor board.

But how wonderful that extra length of throttle will be if he does need it!

It will be there for that burst of speed that can free him from a difficult driving situation.

It will be there in case he needs it for safety in passing . . . or to answer the challenge of a mountain road.

And even when not in active use, that reserve of power will add to his motoring pleasure.

It will bring him confidence and contentment and peace of mind . . . and it will provide unusual operating economy and dependability.

Of course, Cadillac's magnificent performance is only part of the exciting Cadillac story for 1956. There is inspiring beauty . . . and extraordinary luxury . . . and superlative craftsmanship.

Why not stop in soon and see what we mean?

We've got the keys and the car—all you have to provide is an hour of your time.

We can promise you . . . it will be the most revealing sixty minutes you ever spent at the wheel of a motor car.

Block Brazil President from Regaining Office

RIO DE JANEIRO — The lower house early today declared ailing President Joao Cafe Filho unfit to resume office and state troops were alerted for any emergency in Brazil's second major crisis in two weeks.

Cafe was under virtual house arrest in his swank apartment in the Copacabana sector of Rio de Janeiro. Troops surrounded his house waiting for him to leave so he could be "invited" to go to the war ministry for questioning.

Cafe, under treatment for a mild heart attack for several weeks, precipitated the crisis Monday when he announced his intention to take back his job.

Troops bolstered by tanks and guns took up strategic positions throughout the capital. Two heavy cruisers moved into Guanabara Bay and anchored just offshore without explanation. The Navy is regarded as pro-Cafe.

Army leaders were said to have vetoed Cafe's return to power because they feel he is too close to the Navy, the Air Force and the National Democratic Union Party groups which the Army believes are trying to prevent president-elect Juscelino Kubitschek from being inaugurated Jan. 31.

The Brazilian crisis two weeks ago stemmed from the same thing. The army ousted Acting President Carlos Luz — a friend of Cafe's — and replaced him with Nereu Ramos, president of the Senate. Ramos was confirmed by Congress and the army said it was acting to prevent a coup against Kubitschek.

Illinois Motorists Must Reverse Trend to Achieve Safe Driving Day

SPRINGFIELD — The State Highway Department today turned up some statistics for motorists to think about on Safe-Diving Day, Dec. 1—or any other day.

The first thing to be noted is that if Illinois does not have a perfect traffic record on SD day, it will likely be the fault of motorists, and not highways, defective automobiles or the weather.

The five principal causes of rural traffic accidents in Illinois during the first six months of 1955 were: driving too fast for conditions, proceeding without right-of-way, driving on wrong side of the road, improper turning and disregard of traffic signals.

These five factors were the principal cause in half of the accidents. Each of them caused more accidents in the first six months of 1955 than in the same period of 1954.

Improper turning, for example, caused 38 per cent more accidents through June of this year. Other increases were: driving too fast, 31 per cent; driving on wrong side, 18 per cent; disregard of traffic signals, 15 per cent; and proceeding without right-of-way 4 per cent.

Illinois motorists are going to have to reverse a trend if they are to turn in a satisfactory record on SD day.

Traffic accidents in Illinois in recent years have averaged about 10,000 a month.

But in the first six months of 1955 the average has climbed to about 11,000.

The increase occurred mostly in rural areas where accidents are up 16 per cent, compared to an increase of 9 per cent in cities.

The kind of accident which showed the largest increase was the collision of vehicles, up 19 per cent in the country and 11 per cent in the cities.

City pedestrian accidents declined 4 per cent, but the loss of life in such accidents rose 15 per cent. Rural non-collision accidents also showed a 4 per cent decline, along with slightly fewer fatalities.

Illinois' 1954 SD day record was a 15 per cent reduction in accidents, a 34 per cent reduction in personal injuries and one less fatality than on the same day in 1953.

Nickell Predicts $280 Million School Aid Next Two Years

CHICAGO (AP)—State Superintendent of Public Instruction Vernon L. Nickell predicts the state will appropriate 280 million dollars to aid school in the next two years. But he added he doesn't know where the money will come from. Nickell, speaking before a joint convention of the Illinois Association of School Boards and Illinois School Administrators Monday, estimated that grade and high school enrollments in the state will increase by 50,000 pupils in each of the next six years.

About 2,600 more classrooms will be needed as soon as next September, he said.
As fund-raising measures, he proposed:
1. The same bonding power for the unit school district as for the community district.
2. State grants to districts in need.
3. Federal aid, matched by state funds.

Heater Maker Claims 'Freeze Out' By General Motors

WASHINGTON (AP)—An independent manufacturer of auto heaters charged today that the General Motors Corp. is freezing him out of the Chevrolet market.
E. L. Schofield, Rockford, Ill., told the Senate Monopoly subcommittee that GM is forcing its dealers to buy Chevrolet heaters with factory-installed heaters.
Formerly, Chevrolet dealers had bought substantial quantities of his heaters, Schofield testified. The subcommittee is investigating whether General Motors is using its vast economic power to suppress competition and establish a monopoly position.
Schofield also charged that the Aetna Manufacturing Co., Boston, had refused to make switches for the Schofield heater under threat from GM to withdraw its switch business.

General Motors denied Schofield's charges in two letters to him. The Federal Trade Commission, after an investigation, reported that it could find no letters or other documents to substantiate the Schofield charges.

But Schofield said that the GM policy on Chevrolet heaters was being set verbally "at the district or zone level." He contended that the FTC should have required Chevrolet dealers to testify under oath.

In loving memory of Mrs. Julia Bardos, who passed away in November, 1949.
A wonderful mother, woman and aid.
One who was better, God never made.
A wonderful worker, so loyal and true.
One in a million, that mother was you.
Just in your judgment, always right.
Honest and liberal, ever upright.
Loved by your friends and all whom you knew.
Our wonderful mother, that mother was you.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Brenda Jean Hendrickson, age 11, who was struck by a car and killed on the Dorris Heights highway, Nov. 21, 1952.
Little we knew with dawn that morn,
The sorrow it would bring.
The blow was hard, the shock severe.
We little thought the end was near.
If all the world were ours to give,
We would give it, yes and more;
To see your smiling face again.
Come shining through the door.
Sometimes it is hard to understand
Why some things have to be.
But in his wisdom God had planned
Beyond our power to see.
God gave us strength to bear it,
And Courage to meet the blow,
But what it meant to lose you.
This world will never know.
The beautiful things you did for us,
Live in our hearts each day,
And keep you near and dear to us.
Though you have passed away.
Sadly missed by Theodore, Claudine and Barbara Hendrickson. *124-1

(And think of the gas you save!)

Now they've done it—and it's terrific.

Now, to the spectacular performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflo,* Buick engineers have added a new marvel that goes airplanes one better.

They call it "double regeneration"—and it means, simply, that they found a way to make whirling oil add to its own velocity to give you double-action take-off.

You feel the results right from the start when you're at the wheel of a 1956 Buick with this advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.

You feel it in the first inch of pedal travel—where all your normal driving is handled.

But when you need an extra safety-surge of acceleration to get out of a tight spot, you merely floor the pedal and switch the pitch. Then, split-second quick, you get full-power go-ahead like a pilot does at take-off—and it's the most thrilling safety measure on America's highways today.

Greg Sherwood Dodge Sues Spanish Guitar Player for $200,000

JANESVILLE, Wis. (AP) — Mrs. Gregg Sherwood Dodge, a onetime chorus girl who married automobile heir Horace E. Dodge III, demanded $200,000 today from a Spanish guitar player on charges that he knocked her from her perch on a bar stool.

Mrs. Dodge, in a suit filed Monday, said Mario Escudero of the Jose Greco dancing troupe punched her in the nose to climax an argument which raged through three languages Friday night.

Dodge was reported hurrying to nearby Beloit, Wis., to be with his wife.

Stevenson Urges Youth to Take Part In Political Affairs

NEW YORK (AP) — "If I were 21 again," Adlai Stevenson said today, "I would participate actively in the political life of my community, my neighborhood, my block."

Stevenson wrote an article for Coronet Magazine, one of a number of magazine stories that came out of the 1952 Democratic presidential campaign shortly before and after he announced he would become a contender again.

The former Illinois governor said it was better for youth's natural bent for rebellion and reform "to do battle in the arena, not the grandstand."

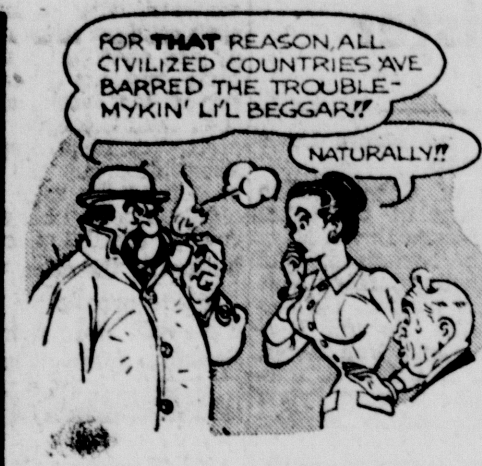

Referring to his suggestion of active political work for young people, he wrote:

"If we are prepared to fight and die for our democratic ideals when they are threatened from without, why not fight and live for them when they are threatened from within? They always are. And the basic struggle takes place every day, and in your own town."

Stevenson said that since he was 21 he has learned never to "underestimate the precinct captain." He said there is no more eloquent expression of democracy than "a sincere man persuading his next door neighbor to vote for his alderman."

L'L ABNER

Oliphant to Aid Jury Probe Of Tax Scandals

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Government attorneys said today Charles A. Oliphant, former chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau, has been summoned to aid in the grand jury inquiry into tax scandals.

Oliphant was scheduled to appear before the grand jury to help in checking the files in the case of Irving Sachs, a St. Louis shoe broker who pleaded guilty to tax evasion in 1951.

T. Lamar Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's tax division, and Tom L. Evans, Kansas City radio executive and secretary of the Harry S. Truman Library Inc., were scheduled to return before the jury in connection with the Sachs case. Both testified Monday.

Caudle, fired by former President Truman, denied he ever profited from handling any tax cases while in office.

Cost of Living Holds Steady

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living held steady last month. Price increases for new cars and houses offset a drop in food prices, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

The bureau also reported that take-home pay of factory workers rose to a new record level in October. This meant a boost in purchasing power of factory workers since the cost of living was unchanged.

The bureau's consumer price index in mid-October stood at 114.9 per cent of average 1947-49 prices. That was the same as in mid-September.

It was .3 of 1 per cent higher than a year ago and .4 of 1 per cent below the peak reached in October, 1953.

The cost-of-living index has not changed enough since July to affect the pay of auto workers and others whose wage contracts are pegged to the index.

Arrest Two Youths After Slaying of Henderson Policeman

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP) — A youth who identified himself as Charles Winger, 18, Wichita, Kan., was questioned today as a second suspect in a Kentucky-Indiana crime wave which resulted in the death of a Henderson policeman.

Jack W. Ranier, 24, was killed in a gun battle which climaxed two Indiana robberies and a wild police chase which ended here Monday.

Policeman Sherman Hill, with Ranier when he was killed, said Winger "looks a great deal like the man who did the shooting, but I can't say definitely."

Both Winger and Joe Pearman, Fayetteville, Ark., were arrested after buying tickets at a bus station.

Oil Venture by Anna Group to Pay Off

ANNA, Ill. (AP) — An oil-drilling venture backed by a group of Anna businessmen apparently will pay off.

The group reported oil was struck last week on a farm nine miles from here in Union County.

A spokesman for the group, attorney John Carter, said he anticipates the well should produce 40 to 50 barrels of oil per day and possibly more. However, Carter said pumping operations were delayed until barrels were secured.

Carter said the well was drilled to a depth of only 619 feet. The drillers expressed the belief that there might be more oil formations at greater depths.

Harper, a seven-year member of the U. of I. faculty, teaches classes in industrial safety, safety engineering, industrial fire protection and others.

Stanford Coach Picks Michigan State Over UCLA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coach Chuck Taylor, whose Stanford Indians had the distinction of losing to both Rose Bowl opponents this season, rates Michigan State over UCLA for their clash at Pasadena.

"Michigan State was a little stronger than UCLA," Taylor said as Monday's final meeting of the year of the Northern California Football Writers Association.

"They seemed faster all around although there isn't a better football player than tailback Sam Brown of UCLA."

The Spartans and Bruins belted Stanford on successive weekends in which the Indians' morale was given its sternest test. Michigan caught them in East Lansing, 38-14 and UCLA followed with a 21-13 triumph.

"Michigan State has more power on offense and UCLA is better on defense," is the way Taylor summed things up.

Increase Interest Rate to Banks for Price Support Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department today announced an increase in the interest rate paid to banks for making price support loans on 1955 crops.

The 1-4 per cent rate boost goes into effect Dec. 1.

The department emphasized that the increase will be absorbed by the government and not passed on to farmers. The rate charged farmers by the banks will remain 3 1/2 per cent.

The increase was ordered to bring the interest rate in line with recent increases in rates for short-term government and commercial borrowing, the department said. The purpose is to keep banks in the business of lending money for price support loans.

Coach Combes Says Illinois Has Good Cage Squad with Height and Speed

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — "A good squad with height, speed, and better depth than Illinois has had in several years." That's Coach Harry Combes' forecast for his ninth Illinois basketball team which opens a 22-game schedule Dec. 6 against Butler in George Huff gymnasium.

"We've had eight full-length scrimmages and there's been little to choose between the first 10 men," Combes reports. "We started with an all-veteran five opposing one letterman and four sophomores, then we've gradually worked the first-year men into various combinations."

"It wouldn't surprise me if some of these sophomores push the more experienced men for starting positions before the season begins. If so, we'll definitely have a better bench than last year."

Players Interchanged

Lettermen are led by Capt. Paul Judson, 6-4 senior guard from Hebron. Others are Harv Schmidt, 6-5 junior forward, Kankakee; Bill Altenberger, 6-2 junior forward, East St. Louis; George Bon Salle, 6-8 junior center, Chicago (Loyola Acad.); Bill Ridley, 5-9 senior guard, Taylorville, and Bruce Brothers, 6-5 senior forward, Quincy. Another letterwinner from 1955 will bolster the squad this week when Hiles Stout, 6-4 junior forward from Peoria (Central), will report from the football squad.

Most promising candidates are Larry Breyfogle, 6-3 forward from Lawrenceville; Ted Ciazza, 6-7 center from LaGrange; Don Ohi, 6-3 guard from Edwardsville, and Johnny Paul, 6-1 guard from Elgin. Combes used Judson, Schmidt, Bon Salle, Ridley, and Altenberger in his first all-veteran lineup which opposed Brothers, Breyfogle, Ciazza, Ohi, and Paul. Since the opening scrimmage, however, players have been interchanged in a series which "has been virtually even," Combes said.

"Most of the games have been extremely close and at no time has there been more than 11 points difference between any two combinations."

In addition to foregoing candidates, Combes also lists five other sophomores who may develop as definite varsity candidates. They are: Jim Chengary, 6-3 forward, Chicago (Bowen); Arnold Dauksavage, 6-2 forward, Elgin; Bill Bok, 5-11 guard, Terre Haute, Ind.; Mort Miller, 6-2 forward, Chicago (Roosevelt); and Ray Thonn, 6-2 guard, Proviso (Maywood).

The squad could be further strengthened at mid-semester if Phil Judson, 6-3 senior guard from Hebron, and Tom Rank, 6-2 sophomore guard from Chicago (St. Patrick), can erase scholastic deficiencies which will keep them idle for the current term.

Complete schedule of Illinois games:

WSIL to Telecast, WEBQ to Broadcast SIU-Bradley Game

CARBONDALE, Ill. — The first play-by-play telecast of a Southern Illinois university football game will take place Thanksgiving afternoon as WSIL-TV (Channel 22), Harrisburg, televises the SIU-Bradley university contest in McAndrew Stadium.

Bob Walker, SIU student from Herrin, will do the play-by-play description for the telecast, beginning at 1:15 p. m. Walker has been handling the commentary for the station's telecasts of high school games during the season. The station will use micro-wave transmission equipment to relay the program to the main station.

Ralph Becker, SIU Radio Service program director, says that five area radio stations will join the SIU Broadcasting football network to carry play-by-play accounts of the SIU-Bradley contest Thursday afternoon, beginning at 1:30 p. m. They are WCIL, Carbondale; WHCO, Sparta; WDQN, Du Quoin; WINI, Murphysboro; and WMOK, Metropolis.

Broadcasting the game live will be WEBQ, Harrisburg, and a Peoria station.

Dean Millenbine of McLeansboro, a sophomore at St. Louis university is a member of the university's varsity basketball team and S.L.U. Coach Ed Hickey is quoted as referring to Millenbine as the "greatest shooter on the squad."

Millenbine was one of the finest jump-shot artists while playing with the McLeansboro high school cagers.

He entered St. Louis university last year and made the freshman squad and now as a soph has advanced to the varsity and apparently will see considerable action during the 1955-56 season.

The Billikens of St. Louis U. annually are one of the nation's top squads and it is quite an accomplishment to get a varsity position as a second year player.

Oliver Rollins is away to a fine start to grab honors as Egypt's top scorer. In four games he has topped 130 points, for an average of 32 1-2 points per game. He started the season with 22 against Rosiclare, hit for 33 against Mound City, scored 30 against Mt. Vernon, always of the best in the South Seven, and capped his performance to date with 45 against unbeaten Shawneetown.

Whitely Rouviere, Buckner boy playing football at the University of Miami, Fla., turned in one of his best performances of the season Friday night as his team beat the University of Alabama, 34-12. Rouviere intercepted two passes, returning one 32 yards for a TD. He also caught two passes and carried the ball seven times against the Alabama line, picking up 40 yards. He will close out his college career Nov. 26 against the University of Florida.

There's no such thing as a standard baseball, according to The Sporting News. The baseball accepted under the 1955 rules allows a tolerance of five per cent in weight and almost three per cent in size. The rule says the weight shall be five to five and a quarter ounces, and the circumference nine to nine and a quarter inches.

It's even money and take your pick, says The Sporting News, about the Army-Navy game coming up November 26. Unpredictability is traditional in these clashes. In reviewing former meetings for The Sporting News, Bob Addie has this classic story. Back in 1926, a Wisconsin couple named Born had a problem. One son, Arthur, played guard for Navy. Another, Charlie, was an Army end. The Borns sat on the Army side for one half and on the Navy side for the other. But everybody went away happy—the game ended in a 21 to 21 tie.

Ohio State Dominates Big Ten Conference Team With Four Players

CHICAGO — Ohio State's Big Ten champions placed four players today on the 1955 all conference team selected by coaches for United Press.

Leading the list as the only unanimous selection was the Buckeyes' All-American halfback, Howard Cassidy, who made the team for the second straight season. Also on the first team from Ohio State were tackle Francis Machinsky, guard James Parker and center Ken Vargo.

Machinsky also made the team for the second consecutive year, a feat shared by Michigan's end Ron Kramer and Iowa's guard Calvin Jones.

Michigan, which finished third in the conference, placed two other players on the first team along with Kramer to challenge Ohio State for honors. Also listed tops from the Wolverine eleven were end Tom Maentz and halfback Tony Branoff.

Michigan State's Rose Bowl bound Spartans won two positions, with quarterback Earl Morrall and fullback Gerry Planutis, while Purdue grabbed the 11th position with tackle Joe Krupa. Another Purdue player who made the all conference team in 1954, quarterback Len Dawson, was pushed back to the second team this season by Morrall. Dawson was hampered by a broken thumb on his right hand most of the year.

Purdue Dominates Second

Though Cassidy was the only player placed on every first team, every coach named Parker and nine of them for the first team. Jones also was placed on either the first or second team by every coach. Nine coaches listed Kramer and Maentz on either the first or second team.

Michigan State's balanced appeared in the second and third team selections as the Spartans placed three players on each eleven. Purdue dominated the second team with four players. Every school except Northwestern placed at least one player on the first three teams, with Illinois and Minnesota each getting one third team berth.

The second team included tackle Dick Murley, end Lamar Lundy, Dawson and fullback Bill Murakowski from Purdue, end Dave Howard and guard Wells Gary from Wisconsin, guard Carl Nystrom and halfback Walt Kowalczyk from Michigan State, center Jim Bates from Michigan and halfback Ed Vincent from Iowa.

Sooners Hold Top Rating of College Teams

NEW YORK — Oklahoma's split-T powerhouse picked up increased support as the No. 1 college football team in the United Press ratings today with one week left to decide the mythical national championship.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's Sooners now seek an impressive victory over Oklahoma A & M in their season finale next Saturday to solidify their claim to the national title. If successful, it will mark their claim to the national title. If successful, it will mark the second time in the past five years that Oklahoma wins the top honor.

Twenty-two of the 35 leading coaches who comprise the United Press rating board picked the Sooners as the No. 1 team this week. Second - ranked Michigan State attracted six first - place votes; Maryland and UCLA, respectively, each had three first-place votes, and seventh-ranked Texas Christian received one.

Shakeup Of Week

Ohio State's 17-0 upset victory over Michigan produced the biggest shakeup in this week's top 10. The result boosted the Buckeyes two notches to the No. 6 ranking behind Notre Dame, Michigan, which led the ratings for four weeks this season, dropped out of the top 10 for the first time.

Following Texas Christian, which retained the No. 7 rating, came Texas A & M, Georgia Tech and Navy, each advancing one place from last week. The Midshipmen returned to the top 10 after an absence of two weeks, even though they were idle last weekend.

The Rose and Orange bowls thus have correlated this week's first four teams. Oklahoma and Maryland will meet in the Orange Bowl, while Michigan State and UCLA are headed for the Rose Bowl.

NEW YORK — The United Press college football ratings (with first-place votes and win-loss records in parentheses):

Team	Points
1. Oklahoma (22) (9-0)	317

Many people aren't clear on just what stocks and bonds are. For example, a recent nationwide survey showed that only about 23% could correctly describe common stocks. This advertisement is part of a series being published to broaden understanding of investments. We hope you'll find it informative.

What's the difference between Common Stocks, Preferred Stocks and Bonds?

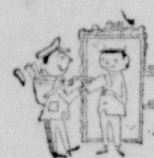

1. When you buy bonds, you lend a company money. You become its creditor. The company promises to pay you back on a certain date and to pay you interest (usually a fixed rate) during the term of the loan.

2. When you buy stock — either common or preferred — you buy an ownership interest in a company ... its plant, inventories and other assets. If a company prospers and grows, you can share in the increased earnings. If it doesn't, dividends may be cut or omitted.

3. The advantages of bonds. Bond prices tend to be more stable than stock prices, although they, too, fluctuate to some extent. The return paid, although usually smaller, tends to be more certain. A company must pay all bond interest before it can declare a dividend on its stock.

4. Preferred vs. common stock. The main advantage of preferred stock: a company must pay dividends to its preferred shareholders before it pays any to the owners of its common stock. The main advantage of common stock: when a company is prospering, it can declare increased dividends to common stockholders (preferred usually pays a fixed dividend).

Before you invest, get the facts. Investing is a serious business and has risks as well as rewards. He can give you facts about the 1,522 common and preferred stocks and the 739 corporate bonds listed on the Exchange. And his information and advice won't cost you a penny. # Murder in Haiti

by John W. Vandercook

XXVII

Lynch went down first, carefully picking his way past that sprawled body. I followed him. Reg Dibble came down after us.

While Dibble and I held the torches steady, Lynch turned Braun over. The heavy bullet had gone through his head and splattered on the stone. Except for that familiar trench coat and the fragments of the pince-nez, recognition would have been difficult.

Lynch gingerly put a hand first in one coat pocket of the dead man, then the other. From the second he drew out a large sheet of stiff paper which had been carefully folded. On the paper were three separate plans, or maps. One was of the promontory of the Mole St. Nicolas. Another was a floor plan of the fortress. The third was a sketch of the magazine, with the trap by which we had descended clearly marked.

Your guess, Robert," said Lynch, "was correct. Meer tried to deal honestly with Sand. Not because of any love of fair dealing but because it was certainly no part of his purpose that through some chance accident to himself the chests should be lost forever. I am afraid our Sea Hero will be disappointed when he learns that his admired Herr Braun deceived him."

"Unless," I offered, "he knows it already."

In the far corner of the chamber was a neat pile of oblong metal boxes, five across and four high. My guess was that they were made of Duralumin. Each was banded in both directions with thin strips of steel held by a twist of wire and a lead seal. I tried one of them. It was as heavy as lead. But this was gold.

"Bloody dollars," snapped Lynch. "So few coins." Reg countered haughtily, "are really sanitary."

"The immediate business before this committee," I said, "is what do we do next?"

Lynch nodded. "You mean of course the question of jurisdiction. The normal procedure would be to summon the local authorities. But I do not think the situation can be called usual. Interests and personalities are involved which transcend any local interest."

He addressed himself to Dibble. "As Deane here can tell you, I am so much accustomed to working in odd places and, shall I say, in uncommon situations, that I've grown used to dealing with these matters in my own fashion. In this instance I think, then, I shall keep to my own bad habits."

Dibble nodded. "If you care, I'm sure Viggo would thoroughly approve."

Lily Wyndam's voice came to us from above. "You'd better come up. We have visitors."

We waited for them, blinking like owls at the sun outside. DeJongh and four white uniformed sailors came toward us across the great weed-grown courtyard of the fort.

He touched the peak of his cap in a polite salute. "Mr. Sand has sent me ashore with a message. Mr. Braun seems to have disappeared. The ship has been thoroughly searched. Mr. Sand sent me ashore to tell you that we can't find him."

"We have," said Lynch. Lynch took charge like any competent policeman. Since we had no cameras with which to make a photographic record, he insisted that all of us, including the four large eyed sailors deJongh had brought with him, memorize the position and the appearance of Braun's body.

There were no long poles, no canvas, no nothing, with which to improvise a stretcher. And with the danger that somebody might come by at any moment and catch us in the acutely illegal occupation of making off with a murdered cadaver, there was certainly no time to send to the yacht and get one.

But discipline on the Vittoria was beyond reproach. At a low-voiced command from deJongh, the Pole and Spaniard took Braun's body up by its heels and below the arm-pits and started off with it, deJongh going ahead of them to reconnoiter.

"Lynch, old boy." It was Dibble. "A suggestion. We've got two more pairs of arms here." He indicated the other sailors. "Suppose we take at least one of these cases back with us. A penny gained, so to speak, is a penny earned."

Lynch gave me the impression the idea did not appeal to him, but since he could think of nothing to say against it, he nodded.

The heavy lifeboat in which deJongh and his crew had come ashore was moored at the steps where we had left the speedboat. They deposited Braun's body in it under the cross seats where, if anyone was watching from the shore, it would not be seen. Dibble directed the stowing of the heavy chest, also out of sight, on the speedboat's floor under the rear seat.

We had not been forgotten. The discovery of Braun's disappearance, our own prolonged stay ashore, then the long absence of deJongh had aroused a maximum of curiosity. Sand, with Miss Wyndam clinging to his arm, was at the head of the stairway. Near them, I sighted Dr. Lund. Even Paul Souhani was on hand.

"I think," said Reg Dibble in a low voice, "we'd best leave that little box of ours where it is. Viggo wouldn't care to have it advertised."

No Matter How You Slice It, You Get the Bird

NEW YORK —How to carve a Thanksgiving turkey—or, no matter how you slice it, you always get the bird.

Here are 10 simple rules:

1. Be prepared. Pick a quarrel with your wife Thanksgiving morning. Contend you don't have the proper carving knives. Nine times out of ten, she'll end up by carving it herself.

2. Be ingenious. Invite a guest who's a marvelous carver, and at the last minute defer to his acknowledged genius with the scalpel. You'll have to get your invitation to him around July, because all the other husbands in the neighborhood will be bidding for him, too.

3. Don't stint. Get an adequately large turkey—preferably one of 85 to 100 pounds. Such a carcass is much easier to carve steaks from. Also, you can have turkey hash for a month afterwards.

An Old Method
4. Be different. Use what has come to be called the Ephraim Woolsey method. In 1794 Ephraim Woolsey brought a meat grinder to the Thanksgiving table. He ran the turkey through it and served the guests. This method has the advantage not only of simplicity but of impartiality—there's no bickering over servings of light or dark meat.

5. Keep some simple facts of anatomy in mind while carving. The anklebone's connected to the thighbone, the thighbone's connected to the wishbone, the wishbone's connected to the trambone, the roll-in' bone's connected to the kingpin, the gizzard's dew-pearled, the heart's in the highlands, take a sharp knife and begin around the coaxial, second to the right and straight on until morning.

6. Follow a simple rule of thumb. Keep your left off the turkey. A fool and his left thumb are soon separated.

7. Keep your guests happy. Invite known sadists. They'll be in heaven watching your misery.

8. Alternatively, invite a drunk. He'll divert attention from the carving.

Or Try This
9. Invite a surgeon. Let him carve. The patter of feeble jokes revolving around him and his chore will reduce the gluttony of your guests.

10. Use a homemade carve-it-yourself kit. This includes a knife, a water pistol, and a clean white sock (ankle length will do if you haven't got a full length sock around). When the food is brought in, fill the sock with alternate layers of dressing and cranberry sauce and tie the end tightly. Fill the pistol with gravy. Begin carving.

When your Aunt Emma demands faster service, give her a jet of gravy in the eye. When your Cousin Willie sneekers at your efforts, backhand him with the sock across the kisser. This will give you confidence.

Postmaster Launches 'Mail Early' Campaign

Launching his annual "Mail early for Christmas" campaign, Postmaster A. M. Hetherington said today that now is the time to prepare and plan the mailing of your Christmas cards and gifts.

His advice: Get out your Christmas list and be sure you have the full name, street and number, city, zone and state for every one. Remember that first-class friends deserve first-class mail and they get this service when you use three cent stamps. Now is the time to lay in a good supply along with plenty of heavy wrapping paper, corrugated cartons and strong cord for your Christmas gift packages. Right now is not too early to start your gifts to the most distant points and try to have them all mailed by the first week in December.

The Postmaster especially requests that you do not mail all of your Christmas cards at the last minute. Those for out-of-state addresses should go by Dec. 10 and all others should be in the mail by at least a week before Christmas. Most important of all be sure that each Christmas card and parcel is clearly and accurately addressed.

Your cooperation will make it a merrier Christmas for every one.

Russell Tongay Surrenders; Wants Lung Treatment

LOS ANGELES — Russell Tongay said today he's willing to return to prison but first wants "proper treatment" for a condition he believes is lung cancer.

The swimming instructor escaped from a prison guard 10 days ago in New Orleans while serving a sentence for the high dive death of his 4-year-old "Aquatot" daughter. At the time he was being transported from Florida to New Orleans to get a lung examination at government expense.

Tongay, 38, turned up here Monday at a local hospital. The fugitive surrendered himself after admittance. Police said he would be transferred to the prison ward at General Hospital but would continue to be treated and get diagnosis.

U. S. to Reject Israel's Appeal For Security Pact

WASHINGTON — The United States will reject—at least for the present—Israel's urgent plea for a security pact with this country, diplomats said today.

Israel Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett issued a public appeal for the treaty Monday in an address before the National Press Club.

But diplomats said the United States now considers the 1950 U. S.-British-French declaration on the Middle East adequate protection for the Jewish state against possible attack from her Arab neighbors. That declaration said
